

PREFABRICATED HOUSES, CAMP UNITS & TRAILERS' MARITIME TRANSPORTATION

Following an expert's advice on loading and stowing cargo, we wish to inform you that a sheet of plywood should be placed on all windows and windshields of prefabricated houses, camp units and trailers, in order to minimize damages.

Therefore, we ask you to comply with this new instruction to avoid problems and delays upon reception of your cargo at the terminal.

This method also applies to all lateral (between two villages) and retrograde (backhaul) transportation. It is then essential to cover the windows before leaving the expedition site (place where the cargo will be picked up by the maritime carrier).
